USER SCENERIO

He looked the details of event , the place of the Jazz concert is very convenient for him because of the location. The event was in the Karaköy/Istanbul. He click the attend button. Then he remembered that he he promise his best friend Oğuz about going concert. He send the link of the event via WhatsApp. Oğuz was not registered user of Actopus platform. He clicked the link and saw the event as a guest. He tried to write comment in event but he could not. Then he also tried attend the event for clicking the "Attend" button. And failed again. After that he recognized that he should register.

Oğuz saw the home page of Actopus and he thought that the logo of Actopus is very creative, he also thought that the legs of the octopus on the logo represents the communication between people. Then he clicked register and signed up the platform. Whenever he sign up, he saw the event which Ümit's shared link. Then he write comment and also click the "Attend" button.
